THE "TREATY PURTS OF CHIN? JAPAN," AND "NOTES AND QUERIES ON CHINA AND JAPAN. EXTRACTS FROM REVIEWS.

(From the "Strasts Times," July 27, 1868. Some time ago we had occusion to remark upon the progress that Literature as represented by the Press had made and was making in the East, and our attention has again been onled to the subject by the cerpt of a Hongkong publication which deserves some notice and which we have much pleasure in introducing to the knowledge of our readers. We allude to Notes and Queries on thing and Japan, published monthly by Mr Saint, the proprietor of the China Mail newspaper. This publication is well printed on good paper, and in size and shape is very like its well-known namesake or prototype at home, and is equally a mine containing every curious and useful information regarding the language, literature, history, manners and customs of the Chinese and in a less degree of the Japanese it says a good deal for the extent and stability of the footing of Europeans in China, that such a publication as this should be established and conducted with apparently successful vigour. The publication is altogether a very interesting one, and wishing it every success we commend it to the attention and support of our readers.

From the "Friend of India," June 4, 1868. We acknowledge with thanks the receipt the numbers for the current year of Notes and Queries," a most deserving Anglo-Ohinese monthly, edited by Mr N. 3. Dennya, whose "Treaty Ports of China and Japan" are so well known. From the names attached to the "Notes" we can see that the contributors include some of the best Chinese scholars in the East. Its interest is not confined to China and it wil be of valuable assistance to all scholars, who have directed their attention towards the subject of Buddhism and its literature, and renerally to all who are interested in oriental antiquities, . It deserves , to be better known in India.

(From the ! Lindon Examiner," May

This really useful volume ["Treaty Ports China and Japan is intended as a guide for travellers and residents in China and Japan, and as a book of reference for mercantile men generally. It contains an account, historical and political, of all the open ports of these countries, together with eking, Yedo, Hongkong, and Macso. has been carefully compiled and edited by Ar N. B. Dennys; and the elaborate maps and plaus, with which the work abounds considerably enhance its value. We have thus given in outline some of the more prominent portions of the chapter devoted to Capton, as a specimen of the whole volume. Other chapters treating of Macao, Formosa, Ningpo, Shanghae, and the remainder of the treaty ports, we can only enumerate. The pager describing Peking, the capital, are so interesting, and contain so much that is new to Buropest readers respecting its history, public buildings and general characteristics, that we would fain transfer them to our columns. A complete and intelligible plan of the lim-perial City and neighbouthood, gives us an abcurate notion of the relative position of its divisions, streets, and places,

LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL The Council met, pursuant to adjournment, on the 24th. Present: H. E. the Governor, Hon. Colonial Secretary, Hon. Acting Chief Justice, Hon. Treasurer Forth, Hon. Messrs Keswick, Gibb, Taylor and

The minutes having been read and con-

H. E. the Governor said that before proceeding with the legislative business before them, he wished to draw attention to the copies of the Estimates as now placed in the hands of members. It had long been his desire to make the Estimates as little confused and cumbrous as possible, so that by the utmost simplicity they might be brought quite within the comprehension of any one who chose to comprehend them. The Council need not be reminded that formerly this was impossible, owing to the very strict Treasury minutes under which the Estimates had to be drawn up; but these rules had lately been much relaxed. In the Estimates laid before them to-day this principle had been carried out still further. While detailing the votes under each department of Government, the votes of the Civil List were also introduced, so as to give at glance the sums expended on Government in the Colony. On page 11, for instance, there was a column for the Civil List; and now, instead of the rather discouraging apportionment of a sum of say $480 to the Governor, it was shown that there was sum of $24,000 behind that; and in fact, that the sum total of $25,200 was the amount received by the Governor. It was his desire so to place the items that they should appear in the fullest and clearest way possible. The same effect of the altered system appeared under the heading of the Colonial Secretary's Department and he thought it showed the various items more clearly than had been ever yet done.

He sympathised with men who, had to earn their solvice and consideration on the matter. Gambling License were to be put to a purpose which he hoped would never be tolerated, "If, as has been urged over and over measure should be carried through sgain, it is impossible to raise sufficient revenue to afford the necessary Government and protection, except a portion of it be obtained by means of licensing the vice, then, no doubt, however objectionable the course may be upon purely moral grounds, excuse, if not justify, a resort to it." Now, the Gambling License was never introduged for the purpose of raising a revenue. It was the only means of dome away with a mass of crime and corruption of a particular kind; and even if fees had been lars, his argument would have equally the here, which he wished, the Governor to look | questionably the Registrar General ought | when they asked for more than the Chisime force then as now, and would exist although any amount of revenue wouldexperiment would be equally arduous what somehow or other the Surveyor included: there was no office corresponding tracts and present any vessels from going simple fact was that nobedy as yet had this letter it appeared that the plans had devised any other means than that of the been approved by the Surveyor General, license to meet the evil. He need hardly tell the Council that the Special Rund item was not money which the Colony had to repay it was due oul to the fund in the same way that money might be due to the Judicial Fund The money had been used by the sanction of H. M.'s Government, and in that sense it might be said to be due by the Colony while in reality it was in the same category sa the judicial deposit. He could not see by what reasoning the Colony could be said to the Special Fund any more than the Judicial Deposits; and almost regretted that a matter so simple that it was an absolute necessity to understood by any one who looked at it should be misrepresented. He could only suppose that any one who did not under stand it must be either more simple than his peiglibors, or that he did not choose to comprehend it. Further, the Special Fond was no part of the taxation ; and there was no principle of Magna Charta or the liberty of the subject connected with it. It had been removed by H. M.'s Government altogether from the Estimates, and duy respon-Mibility attached to it belonged to the Home authorities. Formerly, when it first came in, he had to deal with it, and there was only one way of doing so, viz, simply placing it as a receipt of the Treasury. But the Home Government appear to have been dissatisfied that it had been thus pu down even for one year only. The money, therefore, was not under the control of the

Mr Ree (in 1808) instead of relying upon his own dictum that "the employment of American ships in carrying Chinese coolies to be hel to labor is illegal; that it has been so re presented to the Government at Washing ton and will be so regarded by it " more dearly, viewed the necessities of the case and shown the Authorities at Washington that a special act was needed, at once. Turning however, from these genera reflections to the particular point still bu partially met, I now proceed to present in dications of the actual circumstances of th period in question from the Blue Book attitude of the several authorities in pre December 1859 the British Consular Agen on board with the object of capturing pany bim to H. MY DEAR STR. -I trust that you have reached Hougkong en route and I almost repreach myself ntruding upon Y. He had poard an American ship at Wham oos, which gave color to my application fo an Official order from the Procurador t

L'see no effectual means, however, revent the compromise of our Flag in the trocities, but in making the search of each hip on the ever of departure imperative pon the respective Consuls :- That is that every "Coolie" (so called) sha interrogated, and all who have be eceived released :- The ship (or chartere -for it will virtually come from the latte to pay the Consul $2 for himself and Interpreter, and $1 for a fund to assist the leceived back to their homes.

If Y. E. thinks the rescued men could laimed without returning the outlay of th harterers upon them, the refusal of suc epayment would be a still more effectua heck to these enormities: but it may be oubted if the Portuguese Courts would efore the local authorities according heir forms. So that a fund to provide elatives to redeem the kidnapped and oigled, would be necessary here, at least As I long ago requested the Secretar state to consider my resignation of Consulate here definitive as before intimated o Y. Subsequently, I addressed H. E. Mr. Ward again on the coolie question, closin as follows :-

As to my own opinions and action beg to say that whilst awaiting, as I have been, more precise instructions from the Department of State. I abide by the sense of my despatches of the 28th of November and 18th of December of last year; and may perhaps be permitted to express my egret that there has not been Legislativ or Executive action in the meantime to more clearly define the course and rende more efficient the intervention of Consular Officers in behalf of the Chinese.

CONSULATE OF THE UNITED STATES Macao, October 28th, 1859. SIR, -L was favored on the evening the 24th inst., with your communication the 20th on the subject of two "kidnapped coolies" so called, and within an hour after its receipt my Consular Assistant had av interview with the Procurador of this City pon the subject thereof, who, as it was hen too late to investigate the matter visit the "Barracoons," requested him call at eleven next morning, at the Cit at the Senate house, which he d with the two Chinese seeking their missing friends and was then directed to the "Harracoon" for which the letter enclosed b you was intended. The men were lentified by their friends and were exanined by Mr — to whom were exhibited the contracts signed by them at Whampos before the Chinese officer placed there and which signatures they then acknow It was stated, moreover, by Mr --the keeper of the "Barracoon," that thirt Dollars each bad been advanced for the at Whampoa, two Dollars each for their passage to Macao, and three Dollars and ten cents each had been expended for their food, besides ten cash a-day each for cigars which he said he would not charge

THE COOLIE QUESTION. To the I ditor of the "CHINA MAIL." MR EDITOR, -It is a lamentable fact that the most philanthropic men, and those who are by independence of fortune or position as well as by inclination, capable of assist ing the suffering, are often the least practical : and that consequently their ferven zeal carries them so far beyond the poin where their intervention would be useful that they prejudice the cause they esponse by deterring more practical men, who may tors in the cause of humanity.

The goal of all sincere well-wishers of tions in the lot of these poor Chinese. to be on board your ship, he having their fellow-men must be the simple truth. Thus might all good men have become with Asiatic or Airican passengers in conbeen traced to one of the Barracoons from as it is only when that is reached that co-workers in providing remedies for travention of the Act are liable to a fine whence your vessel has received cookes—I even-handed justice rules, but how often is abuses,—the man of action, with his pracnot exceeding 50 rupees for each passenger of respectively. Say Qui Wing" of the this end and aim of mankind, how often do the well-meaning get to a headlong pace. which they overturn the wayfarers who are peacefully and patiently pursuing their course of duty. Unfortunately too, the wrong done to individuals does not end with the ill-judged zeal of honorable men for so prone are we to run in crowds, like a flock of sheep startled or attracted by novelty, or like a pack of wolves scenting victim, that the good and incantious come for the time associated with malicious and mischievous in public opinion against men whose condumay have been in all respects blameless.

> not in many particulars commendable. When the press stoops from its legi timate position of impartiality, and forsake its high mission of the inculcation of trutl o launch into invectives against national policy or the merchants of various coun ries, without discrimination between th blameable and the praiseworthy, it under mines its own influence; and althoug like the "Times," its leaders may captivate by their teraeness or dazzle by their ornat finish, yet the sober second-thought of readers, which its own writers in their moments of reflective wisdom inculcate the importance of will have their confidence n its guidance seriously impaired.

It is not difficult for the mere observe or the professional man to criticise the ma of action, and by classing him, under this or that category, hold him responsible faults of a avstem. the inconsistencie of a government, or the accidents of th noment; but this is wholly repugnant to our sense of equity, which enjoins that mer shall be judged of individually, and their actions considered with due regard to the circumstances pertaining to themselves

These reflections, Mr Editor, are suggest ed by the sweeping and indiscriminate abuse beaped upon the participators in the carry ing of Chinese Coolies to Peru and other countries, which just now finds expression in Resolutions submitted to the Congress of the United States, and in the newspaper press, a summary of which, together with new Decree of the Peruvian Government nitiating more or less, a new Policy (under as you intimate a pressure from without). you have published in your No. 595

Now the first thing that strikes the houghtful reader, is that these censors who are so lavish of indignation, ignore the inherent necessities of the case, and natead of recognizing an existing state of facts requiring to be dealt with pracically: assume that this "commerce which employs whole fleets of ships and sweeps every ocean," * has only to be denounced to be

If they were correct in this assumption -if it were true that the mutual wants these countries—of China and Peru instance—could be stifled, -the cry of the Chinese for bread, for life, and the cry the Peruvians for laborers for their vine varda; if the power of the humane Governments of the West could be legally exercised in the total auppression of this commerce henceforth, there would still remain this unjust reflection upon indivi duals acting with retrospective effect, and partaking of the nature of an ex-post-facto aw against them. Justice to the indigent Chinese require no such injustice to those who have conso entiously answered their ory for "one more ease of life;"-a cry sometimes feeble, from emaciated frames, sometimes from vigorous clamorous throats, importunate

But Sir, is this exodus to be stopped Are those who have not the sustenance in China, much less what would be required to convey them abroad, are they to remain and starve or prey upon the deenceless of their own country? Is it not on the contrary, beyond doubt that China will hereafter require the depletory process. so to term it, of a thinning-out of her population? - Has not such become normal condition that this pressure from within is of the nature of a natural overflow. which detaches the least-cared-for and the worthless members of society, like the lighter particles from banks down the current the river to form the delta at its mouth. perchance they escape being swept quite

HANGING.

(Pall Mall Gazette Aug. 7.) Whatever grounds may be urged for aining or abolishing capital punishment there is one question connected with th subject which hardly receives the attention t deserves. Assuming that it is necessar to put an end to the earthly career of certain class of criminals, that object is ful ly gained by the quickest and most mercifu means : we are agreed that life should l extinguished without torture, and is equally objectious ble to kick the condemned man from time into eternity, so to speal Now our own way of killing a oriminal by throttling him. Is this process unneces sarily painful or not ! The general opinio of the community is that a criminal who hanged suffers little if any pain; that dislo cation of the neck is ensured, and that thereupon sensation is at an end almost immediately. We read that the unhappy ma was "launched into eternity." and as th launch was all over before respectable people were down to breakfast, we trouble our selves little on the subject; and, indeed, by no means a pleasant matter for contemple. tion. Yet if we made inquiry at Newgate we should find that of the many criminals executed at that prison during the las twenty years, perhaps only two or three others have died of sheer strangulation

There is, therefore, good reason for believ

It those whose has compelled them to stand near allows on the occasion of many sappens, we believe they would give the the culprit struggles violently for about three-quarters of a minute; his head droops on one side, he becomes motionless and at this moment the reporters say he "launched into eternity." Reporters are however, liable to error, and never more so than on these terrible occasions, when the account of the closing scene is generally written beforehand. Though the man is motionless, the end is not yet; the oulpris reviving from his faint, returns again time from eternity, and the violent heaving of his chest shows the fearful nature of second struggle, which would be evident to all but for the happy thought of the straps. This accord agony varies in duration the executioner has exercised his skill but its average duration is about minutes, measured by our believe this to be a fair account of what takes place at most executions. The details. course, vary according to the dexterity of the hangman. People would be horrified at the suggestion, but there can be no doubt that few officials more require a certificate from the Civil Service Commissioners than the executioner. The slightest error in adjusting the noose, any miscalculation in leugth of the drop, may make the suffering tenfold greater in one case than in another. The truth is, we apprehend, that hanging even whom skilfully performed, is but barbarous mode of putting an end to life, and unskilfully performed there is reason to fear that it becomes positive torture and, moreover, the mere difference in the weight of the culprits renders it at all times an unequal pundishment. Heavy murderers escape much of the pain we inflict on Now that executions are no longer conlucted in public, and the faults in system, if faults there be, may remain conocaled within the prison walls for an indenite time, might it not be advisable to consider whether our mode of execution is really the best one possible? Might not sage tickets to America which they have this very method be rendered almost painless by one of the many agents known to ther by threat or entreaty, to return home modern medicine? THE PRINCE's GIFTS. -Some remarks have already been made in this country on the impropriety of asking the public to repay to the Duke of Edinburgh the value of the presents which he distributed in his cold nial voyages, to the amount of £3,374 14a Similar censure of this strange proceeding now comes by the telegraph wires from Victoria. Great blame seems to rest this matter on the Ministers, whether great or small, who admitted and sanctioned his Royal Hughness's claims to reimbursament Every private gentleman who travels, and is hospitably entertained, gives presents on a scale befitting his position; and it will be for Mr Ayrton or his superiors to explain why the public are to pay for the Duke of Edinburgh's gifts, which do not seem on of proportion to his princely position and the revenue which, as a royal prince; he receives from the nation. EFFECTS OF DISESTABLISHMENT, EVERY letter from Ireland is full of the good effects already apparent from the destruction o ascendancy. The Catholic Bishops everywhere exhort their or, which is much more important, their brothers, " children of the same mother, Ireland;" while the Grangemen, intead of driving the Queen into the Royne, as they threatened to do, are diligently setting to work to make the laity supreme in the Free Church. We are told on very good authority that the Government were amazed at the way July 12 passed off, and the new spirit which seems to have come over the people. DOUBLY DECEIVED .- A Cork paper says that on Friday evening much commiseration, mingled, it must be confessed, with some amusement, was excited among t number of people whose attention was attracted by the spectacle of an elderly countryman who paced the footway at Patrick's Bridge, wailing loudly, wringing his hands, and showing every other demonstration of deep grief. Upon interrogatory the poor fellow told a melancholy narrative, from which it appeared that he was a small farmer living in the region of the Ballyhoura mountains in this county and that on Sunday last, while himself and the other members of his family were a mass, his daughter eloped with the servant man taking with her 45%, the produce of a colt sold by her father at Cabirmee fair. The poor father's consternation at this unfillal leave-taking was only excelled by the indignation of his eldest son, and instant measures were taken, if not to rescue the young lady, at least to recover the money The fugitives were traced to Cork, whither they were followed by the girl's brother, who on Wednesday last succeeded in hunting up the couple in a lodging-house in Leitrim-street. A stormy scene very probably ensued, for the result was that the irate brother extorted from his frightened relative and her Lothario not only balance of the sum they had absconded, but also two paspurchased. But to all inducements, who seems to have been frightened clean but of sight, and had gone no one knew whither. Coughs, Colds, Rheumatism, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, and Fever.

THE Times, of India, states "that the discovery L. of DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLO-RODYNE is a greater blessing to the human race than even the discovery of Varcination," This remedy is invaluable in the above diseases, and is, indispensable to Emigrants, Travellers, and Families, a few doses being generally sufficient.

Da. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE. -The Right Hon. Earl Russell communicated to the College of Physicians and J. T. Davenport, that be had received information to the effect that the only remedy of any service in Cholers was Chiefedyne. See Lancet, December 31, 1864. DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE.

-Extract from Medical Times, January 12, 1866,-Is prescribed by scores of orthodox medical practitioners. Of course it would not be thee singularly popular did it not supply a want and fill a place ! DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE. -Extract from the General Board of Health, Loudon as to its effecacy in Cholera " so stro gly are we convinced of the immense value of this remedy that we cannot too forcibly urge the necessity of; DR J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE is the best and most certain remedy in Coughs,

From A. Montgomery, Esq., late Inspector, Hospitals, Bombay :-- 1 Chlorodyne is a most valua able remedy in Neuralgia, Asthma, and Dysentery To it I fairly owe my restoration to health after eighteen months' severe suffering, and when all other

THE COCOA (or CACAO) of MARAYILLA is the true THEOBROMA of LINNAUS. Cocon is indigenous to South America, of which Maravilla is a favoured portion. TAYLOR BRO: HERS having secured the exclusive supply of this unrivalled Cocoa, have, by the skilful application of their soluble principle and elaborate machinery, produced what is so underiably the perfection of prepared Cocoa, that t has not only secured the preference of homeopaths and cocoa drinkers generally, but many who had hitherto not found any preparation to suit them. have, after one trial, adopted the Maravilla Cocon at their constant beverage for breakfast, luncheon, &c.

A SUCCESS UNPRECEDENTED. See following Extract from the Globe of May 14, 1868.

"Various importers and Manufacturers hive attempted to attain a reputation for their prepared Cocoas, but we doubt whether any thorough success had been achieved until Messes Taylor Brothers discovered the extraordinary qualities of "Alaravilla" Cocoa. Adapting their perfect system of preparation to this finest of all species of the Theobroma, they have produced an article which supersedes every other Cocon in the market. Entire solubility, a delicate aroma, and a care concentration of the purest elements of nutrition, distinguish the Maravilla Cocoa above all others. For Homecopathe and invalida we could not recommend a more agreeable: or valuable beverage. Sold in packets only by all Grocers, of whom also
